Election due after death of councillor

A BY-ELECTION has been called in Walsall following the death of Labour leader and long-serving councillor Tim Oliver.

Voters will go to the polls on July 24 for the Birchills Leamore ward. Nomination papers are available from now until the closing date of June 27 at 4pm.

Councillor Oliver, whose funeral took place last week, passed away, aged 56, following a battle with cancer.

He represented Birchills and Leamore ward for 18 years and was also director of Palfrey Community Association. He had been leader of the Labour group on Walsall Council since May 2005.

Councillor Oliver's family invited donations to be made to Pancreatic Cancer UK and Macmillan Cancer Support. Hundreds of mourners turned out to pay tribute to Councillor Oliver at last Thursday's memorial service at Walsall Town Hall. Mr Oliver was former captain of Walsall Health Cricket Club's Sunday team. He started playing for the club in the late 1980s along with a number of colleagues from his other team Walsall Phoenix.

A memorial cricket match is planned for later this year, although the exact details have yet to be finalised.

Healthy food scheme starts

A NEW awards scheme for takeaways has been launched in Walsall to encourage healthy eating.

Businesses can take part in the Health Switch scheme where they are asked to provide low fat, low sugar and low salt alternative dishes. Takeaways that meet the criteria for the bronze, silver or gold award will receive a certificate.

Leader of Walsall Council Mike Bird said: "Obesity is on the increase and this scheme aims to help address the problem."

SNUB FURY AS CENTRE TO GO

Ellie makes waves as children's author

Ellie Simmonds signs a copy of her book for Caitlin Gallagher, aged nine, of Erdington, at Waterstones in Birmingham

SHE has proved herself a superstar in the Midlands when she signed copies of her latest book, a work of fiction which makes good use of her culinary know-how.

The Walsall swimmer was back in the Midlands when she signed copies of her latest book, a work of fiction which makes good use of her culinary know-how.

Queues formed at Waterstones book shop in Birmingham on Saturday as the four-times gold medallist autographed copies of Ellie's Magic Bakery and chatted to fans.

The book, just published, may be her first fiction work but it is very much based on her own experience. It tells the story of a girl called Ellie who, like the author, has achondroplasia, the most common form of dwarfism.

In the fairytale version, the character grows up with cruel relatives who run a bakery. Her world changes for the better when she finds a magic recipe for a cake that solves all her problems. The 19-year-old, of Aldridge, loved reading as a child, particularly the Tracy Beaker books by top-selling author Jacqueline Wilson, and has long harboured a desire to write her own fantasy book about baking. Speaking recently about the finished result, she said: "It's magical. It's about how the character can overcome things. It's trying to show kids that if they set their mind to something, they can overcome anything."

Ellie was the youngest British athlete at the 2008 summer Paralympics in Beijing aged just 13.

She won two gold medals and followed the feat with two more golds at the 2012 Paralympics. Last year she was crowned star baker when she took part in Comic Relief's celebrity version of The Great British Bake Off.

Report by Adam Burling

COMMUNITY leaders have lashed out at the council claiming their wishes to save a neighbourhood centre from demolition were ignored as the bulldozers move in.

Dartmouth House, in Walsall is being pulled down, despite a campaign to save it.

Services have been moved out of the venue after Ryecroft Neighbourhood Resource Centre was given a 25-year lease to run services in New Forest Road.

It comes after campaigners gathered outside Walsall Town Hall to protest against the plans.

The Dartmouth Neighbourhood Forum and Community Care Entertainments had been trying to put together a business plan to run community services from Dartmouth House.

But council bosses in Walsall said more than £287,000 would have to be spent on repairs and maintenance over five years to preserve the facility, which was labelled unaffordable.

Services such as the NHS rehabilitation centre have moved out of the building, in Ryecroft Place, which is now vacant.

Ward councillor Ian Henderson said: "If Dartmouth House had been saved, the community had planned to run a day centre with meals, evening entertainment, health facilities, welfare advice and eventually a tenant Management Association for the benefit of more than 350 local elderly residents."

"Ryecroft is one of a number of areas in Walsall that have been forgotten over many years with closure of the local library and a number of shops, leaving very little for local residents."

He added the community had been 'totally ignored and snubbed'.

Pam Spinks, chairwoman of the Dartmouth Neighbourhood Forum, said: "We are amazed at the speed the demolition is taking place. I would also be amazed if any of the decision makers had set foot in Dartmouth House and seen what an asset it would have been to the community."

Council chiefs stood by their decision to demolish the property during a cabinet meeting where it was discussed earlier this year. Council leader Mike Bird said he wanted to see the building demolished as soon as possible as the council could not afford to pay the costs of security. The demolition of Dartmouth House is expected to be completed by the middle of next month.

Hopes on start for hundreds of homes

A MULTI-MILLION pound project which will transform derelict land in Walsall with hundreds of new homes could start within months – years ahead of schedule.

A total of £50 million is being ploughed into the Goscote regeneration project it has been announced.

It was initially thought that it may take until 2016 for builders to move onto site – but Walsall Housing Group spokesman Steve Hayes said if plans are approved and funding is secured from the Homes and Communities Agency, work on site will start in October with a full completion date four years later.

Walsall Housing Group is now aiming to get funding secured for the 412 home scheme – part of a partnership with national housing and regeneration company Keepmoat. It is being described as the most significant development project the housing group has undertaken.

Carole Wildman of WHG said: "The completed scheme would see a total regeneration of the area with a mix new homes for both rent and sale."

A total of 177 affordable rent and 235 properties for sale are being planned for land off Shakespeare Crescent, Keats Road and Chaucer Road.

Orchestra in church date

A CONCERT will be staged at a church in Willenhall on Saturday. Walsall Symphony Orchestra will perform at Holy Trinity Church, in Short Heath, from 7.30pm.

A summer fair will also take place at the church on June 28 from 10am to 4pm. There will be stalls, a tombola and raffle.

The church, which opened in 1855, is fundraising for its restoration appeal. It launched the appeal to raise £65,000 in 2011 to make vital repairs to the building.

Building work starts for new homes

BUILDING work is under way at a former door factory site, where new homes are being created.

The old Jebron site in Darlaston is being converted into 55 houses and 12 flats under a scheme to increase housing and improve the area's image.

Construction work is under way for the new properties being built on the land between Bright Street and School Street. Hoardings surround the premises off Darlaston Road in King's Hill and digging machines can be seen at work.

The scheme was granted planning permission by Walsall Council last year. Jebron was involved in the manufacturing of doors and fittings, and went into administration in December 2010 with the loss of 65 jobs.

Walsall-based foundry group

Chamberlin & Hill then bought the assets of Jebron Ltd for £162,000.

Darlaston South ward representative Councillor Chris Bott said: "This is just what the King's Hill community has been asking for. The new development is very much welcomed."

The project by developers Galliford Try Partnerships has attracted £50,000 towards improvements at King's Hill Park. There are also plans in the pipeline to transform the old Servis UK washing machine site in nearby Darlaston Road that was demolished more than three years ago.

A planning application for hundreds of homes has been submitted by developer West Register Ltd, which is part of Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS) to transform the land.

Helicopter scrambled over boy racers blight

THE police helicopter was scrambled to collect licence plate numbers when hundreds of drivers congregated at a boy racing hotspot, sparking complaints from householders.

Fuming residents phoned West Midlands Police and their councillors for help after crowds were spotted congregating in Moxley. People in the area have called for action to deal with speeding drivers.

Time bank to expand into town

A TIME bank in Walsall which allows its members to volunteer their time to swap skills free of charge has expanded into Willenhall.

The Time for Real time bank is run by housing organisation Caldmoraccord. For every hour that someone spends doing a task, such as decorating or dog walking, they bank an hour's worth of work from another member of their community.

Time for Real, which launched in Caldmore two years ago, has now expanded into Willenhall and people can sign-up to join at drop-in surgeries every Monday from 10am to midday at Willenhall Chart Community Hub, in Gomer Street.

Tina Dalton, who heads up the time bank for Caldmoreaccord, said: "We're really pleased to now be offering people in Willenhall the chance to come and join the time bank and use the services that it provides."

"It's a great way for people to learn new things, form friendships, feel valued and most of all get the help that they otherwise may not be able to afford."

Time for Real was launched in 2012. Call 01922 728203 for details.

The late-night noise caused by groups who use the site has been the cause of complaints.

Drivers were spotted in Queen Street, Burns Road, the Black Country Route, Wilkinson Road and near the Moorcroft Wood beauty spot.

Councillor Chris Bott, of Darlaston South ward, said efforts were being made to put off motorists from going into the town to park up and display cars, but there were difficulties.

The latest gathering happened on June 1. "We began getting calls from residents about midnight complaining about drivers coming into the area. They started arriving about 8pm and as the evening went on the numbers just got higher and higher."

"There were hundreds of people there. They were parked on the Aldi car park and just as many spectators turned up to watch, including families with children. We're really worried that these gatherings are putting people's lives at risk."

"One gentleman told me as he was driving home to Moxley along the Black Country Route about 9pm he got really worried because he thought an over-taking car would run him off the road. He lives in Queen Street so had to contend with the noise until after 1am."

"This is just not fair on residents when these drivers come into our area. People have to get their sleeps," councillor Bott said.

Yobs attack dozens of trees

Urban forestry officer Jason Simpson with the vandalised trees on Aldridge Airport

A TOTAL of 70 trees were destroyed, damaged or stolen in a vandal attack in Walsall.

The trees were targeted at Aldridge Airport over the weekend and included some which had been planted by school children.

Yobs destroyed 20 street trees and then damaged or stole around 50 others put in by volunteers in a community orchard. The majority of which were stolen.

Officers from Walsall Council's clean and green services have launched a clean up after the attack, which comes after a memorial tree to nine year-old Jamie Cartwright was vandalised.

He died from an infection caused by dust of building work inside Birmingham Children's Hospital while receiving follow-up treatment after twice overcoming leukaemia. The tree was put in Walsall Arboretum in his memory.

More than 30 trees at Warley Woods Park in Smethwick also had bark stripped of their trunks using a knife last month.

Leisure and culture chief councillor Anthony Harris said: "I just can't understand why vandals would do this - ruining both the efforts of hard-working volunteers and the environmental benefits that trees bring. We will reassess the trees that have been attacked at Aldridge Airport in the autumn and consider whether to replace them."

"In the meantime I would urge anyone with any information to pass this on to the police. Let's get the culprits stopped."

Action by fire crews planned in dispute

FIREFIGHTERS across the West Midlands and Staffordshire will be on strike today, Thursday, as part of three days of strike this month, the Fire Brigades Union has announced.

The action is also set to take place on Friday 13 and Saturday 21 as the FBUs' dispute with the Government over pensions continues. Members will walk out for 24 hours from 9am for this week's protest and for seven hours on June 21 between 10am and 5pm. It is the eighth round of strikes since the dispute began between the FBUs and the Government in September.

They last went on strike in May against the Government's plans for a later retirement age, as well as changes to pensions. The union argues that firefighters in their late 50s face being sacked or seeing their pension reduced by half.

Staffordshire Chief Fire officer Peter Dartford has warned residents to be extra vigilant. He said: "It is very disappointing that another strike, consisting of two separate periods, has been announced. As before we will be putting contingency plans in place to provide the best possible emergency response cover."

Emergency care in focus

HEALTH bosses are urging residents to take part in a survey over the future of emergency care in Walsall.

Walsall Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) is undertaking the public consultation until August 14 on the future of urgent care services. Chiefs are looking at what facilities to provide for people suffering from a condition that isn't life-threatening but can't wait for a routine GP appointment.

Emergency care is for life-threatening illness or injuries such as chest pains, or loss of consciousness.

Summer fair

A SUMMER fair will take place in Darlaston this weekend. The event will be held at Darlaston Methodist Church in Slater Street on Saturday. It will run from 11.30am. Attractions on offer for those who go along includes sales of bric-a-brac, cakes and plants.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THIS is a lost cause but, as the flag-waving intensifies, I will make the point once again. The flag of England is the red cross of St George on a white background. That is all. It does not have "England" written across it.

THE newly refurbished terminal at Heathrow will be known as The Queen's Terminal. Sounds like a gloomy prognosis.

IF you believe everything you read, you may think that a couple of years from now the Government is to launch a new, simple state pension of about £150 a week for everyone. Think again. And ask yourself this: with the obvious exception of politicians, has anything simple ever come out of Whitehall? Of course not. The Civil Service does not do simple. It creates magnificent careers and builds mighty empires on complexity. Consider these two statements from the Government's own website: 1) The full new State Pension will be no less than £148.40 per week. 2) The amount you get can be higher or lower depending on your National Insurance record. So in other words, you will definitely get £148.40 but, er, you might not. It all depends on private pension funds being contracted out, or in, and other bewildering stuff. Far from being simple, the New State Pension is so damn complicated that they have set up a special phone-back service to give people a pension forecast. You ring them with your details and they call back a week later with the good (or bad) news. Except that they may not. My phone-back appointment was fixed between 8-10am one morning this week. With nine minutes to go, at 9.51am a lady rang to say sorry, but the system had crashed. The next convenient date was June 23. I wonder how much of that £148.40 per week will go straight into the vast and ruinously expensive Whitehall machine.

ALL this digital stuff is very clever but there are times when you can't beat newsprint. Newspaper articles on the D-Day 70th anniversary will be saved in millions of households and lovingly folded away with Granddad's medal ribbons and yellowing photos, in the hope that future generations will be interested. True, you can save such things on memory sticks and CDs. But technology changes and today's state-of-the-art gizmos will become about as useful as a floppy disc. Ink on paper is for ever.

AND if you despair of today's kids ever showing interest or respect for the sacrifices of two world wars, just give them time. I recall one trip to Normandy when the middle-aged men on the coach were having a right old rant about the youth of today. It turned out that those respectable gentlemen, the salt of the earth who solemnly bowed their heads at the cemeteries had once been, without exception, Teddy Boys.

THE European Commission says Britain should improve its economy by curbing the Help-to-Buy project and bumping up council tax. Always good to be advised by the experts, isn't it? This, of course, is the same Commission whose EU budget has yet to satisfy its own auditors and whose member states include some of the worst basket-case economies in the world. After the European Commission's advice on economics, watch out for North Korea's forthcoming lecture to Britain on canine welfare.

GEORGE Bernard Shaw - patron saint of sub-editors. In his 1912 play Pygmalion, Shaw describes Professor Henry Higgins trying to improve Eliza Doolittle's diction by reciting: "The rain in Spain stays mainly in the plain" (which Lerner and Lowe later incorporated in the hit musical My Fair Lady). Then, this week, the Spanish king announced his abdication and thousands of sub-editors realised this was a story about, wait for it, a reign in Spain. You probably saw the results. Headline heaven.

Sponsors in place for first triathlon

THE developer of an £11 million business and sports college campus and a pharmacy will be sponsoring Walsall's first ever triathlon. The Sprint Triathlon will be held on June 15 at Oak Park Leisure Centre in Walsall Wood. Delighted organisers at Walsall Council said it will go ahead with Walsall College and Jhoots Pharmacy as the sponsors.

The college has started work on a new business and sports hub on land next to its existing Wisemore Campus in Littleton Street West. Jhoots Pharmacy is undertaking a £3.2m development nearby to create its new headquarters. All the places for the triathlon that will feature a 400m swim, a 15km bike ride and a 5km run for entrants aged 15 and above have been snapped up. Walsall's director of public health Isabel Gillis said: "We're just days away from Walsall's first triathlon and everyone involved is thrilled that it has proved such a popular draw. "We're delighted that we have two sponsors for our first triathlon and thank Walsall College and Jhoots Pharmacy for their support. "We hope people from all over Walsall will turn up on the day to cheer on the competitors and will then towards the finishing line." Walsall College's principal and chief executive Jatinder Sharma said: "We are thrilled to be sponsors of Walsall's first ever triathlon and it is shaping up to be a day to remember." Claire Carron, of Jhoots, said: "Jhoots is delighted to be associated with this event."

Nightmares for girl following dog attack

Report by Marion Brennan

A WALSALL schoolgirl was badly bitten and scratched in an attack by a dog in an alleyway, which has left her suffering nightmares.

Teenager Georgia Manns was with two friends when the attack took place about a mile from her home in Darlaston during the half term break.

She was taken to Manor Hospital for treatment to several wounds up to 3cm deep.

Police are investigating the incident. It is understood that the dog, a Japanese Akita, has been seized from its owner.

Georgia, aged 14, filed past the animal and a woman, who had it on a lead, after encountering them in an alleyway off School Street, Darlaston.

But the dog jumped on the youngster's back as she passed. Her mother Deborah Manns, of Wood Street, said: "The dog was growling as they approached, so they kept to one side because the passageway was narrow but it went for Georgia. The woman couldn't control it."

"Georgia's got puncture wounds in her backside and scars all down her back. Luckily she's quite tall and she managed to keep her balance."

Distressed

She said the attack had left her daughter fearful of dogs.

Mrs Manns, 37, went to the distressed teenager's aid after receiving a phone call from her.

"She was screaming in pain. When I got to her, she was a mess, her clothes were ripped and covered in blood. I couldn't believe it. It had bitten through two trackie tops and a vest."

"She is still very sore and has nightmares about what happened."

"It's also affected my little boy. He came screaming to me in the park the other day because there was a dog there. But the police have told me no further action is being taken."

West Midlands Police spokesman Peter Edney said: "The teenager went to walk past the dog, who was on a lead, and as she did the dog jumped up and bit the girl on the back."

"She was taken to hospital and was treated for puncture wounds and scratches. Police were called and the owner voluntarily handed the dog over to police."

Ex-prosecutor is senior coroner

A FORMER crown court prosecutor has been named the new senior coroner for the Black Country.

Zafar Siddique will take over responsibility of investigating sudden and suspicious deaths in September. He says he hopes to provide a 'timely and effective' service to families when he takes on the post.

He will also be pioneering the use of digital imaging in his role, which will cover Sandwell, Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton as he takes over from Robin Balmain, who is to retire after 40 years as a coroner. Mr Siddique said: "I am absolutely delighted to have been given the opportunity to serve the diverse communities of the Black Country and wish to build upon the work of the retiring coroner, Mr Balmain."

"I am keen to fully exploit the use of digital working - including pioneering the use of digital imaging - and delivering a timely and effective coronial service by putting the families of the bereaved at the heart of the inquest process."

Mr Siddique had been an assistant coroner for Coventry and Warwickshire since 2010 and he is currently the deputy coroner for Birmingham and Solihull. He had previously worked in medical genetics, as a solicitor and as chief crown prosecutor for Warwickshire and deputy chief crown prosecutor for the West Midlands.

Sandwell Council made the appointment on Monday. Deputy leader Councillor Mahboob Hussain welcomed Mr Siddique to the role. He said: "I am extremely pleased to confirm that Mr Siddique will be joining us as the new senior coroner for the Black Country. This is an excellent appointment and we look forward to working closely with him."

Tailbacks after van flips over on M-way

A VAN overturned on the M6 during rush hour on Tuesday morning, causing miles of tailbacks.

Traffic was queuing all the way back to junction 6 for Aston following the accident between junction 10 for Walsall and 10a for the M54.

Bosses at the Highways Agency said there were delays of up to 45 minutes.

The crash happened on the northbound side of the motorway at around 6.40am.

Two lanes had to be closed while the van was recovered and debris moved from the road.

All lanes reopened again at around 9am.

Highways Agency spokesman Stuart Thompson said: "We got the call at about 6.45am to a van that had overturned. It was blocking two lanes."

Staffordshire Police spokeswoman Faye Casey added: "We received reports just after 6.40am of a white van that had overturned. There was debris on the road."

The driver of the van suffered minor injuries and was treated by paramedics on the side of the road but he did not need to go to hospital.

New number for train firm

TRAIN operator London Midland is changing its helpline number tomorrow, Friday, to make it cheaper for customers to get in touch. The changeover means that customers will now pay the same rate as for a landline, rather than a premium rate number.

Mobile phone users will be able to call the number using their inclusive minutes, rather than being charged extra. The new number is 0344 811 0133.

A voicemail message will be played on the old number, 0844 811 0133, advising customers of the new line.

Service to begin for brain injured

A REHABILITATION service for brain injury patients will open on June 18 doors in Willenhall with the help of a £250,000 lottery grant.

Charity Headway Black Country helps people who have suffered an injury through an accident, an infection or stroke or haemorrhage.

A portion of the cash awarded by the National Lottery's BIG Reaching Communities pot is being put towards the opening of the centre in West Midlands House, Gipsy Lane.

The charity, based in Dudley, also attracted a £4,000 grant from the Eveson Charitable Trust towards the scheme to expand its services in Walsall borough and Wolverhampton.

Headway Black Country chief executive Stephen Phipps said the grants will be used for refurbishment.

He said Headway would also cover the staffing costs.

"We are really excited to have got the premises up and running in Willenhall to extend the reach of the charity to people who are struggling with the effects of injuries," he said.

"It will also give us an opportunity to offer activities with regard to care and caring."

Dr David Drew a former consultant

A DOCTOR who lost two appeals against unfair dismissal after emailing a prayer to colleagues has written a book about his battle with NHS bosses.

Dr David Drew claimed he was sacked as senior paediatric consultant for Walsall Healthcare NHS Trust in December 2010 after emailing a prayer to colleagues and being told to "refrain from using religious references" at work.

The doctor had also raised concerns over a case where an infant was sent home and died and alleged there was bullying and understaffed wards. But the trust had argued that Dr Drew, of Anchorage Road, Sutton Coldfield, had failed to accept recommendations made following an independent review sparked by him lodging a grievance against a colleague.

He was dismissed for gross misconduct and insubordination, for failing to accept recommendations from the review and for also disclosing confidential information.

His new book titled Little Stories of Life and Death launched at the Royal Society of Medicine in London. It charts Dr Drew's life story and experiences of working in hospitals at home and abroad.

Dr Drew, aged 66, revealed he initially did not want to write the book and was urged to publish his experiences by his eldest son Simon, 40. "He started writing it up, but I immediately felt I could write my own story better I feel I've got things off my chest. We did a lot of research." The autobiography is dedicated to Walsall youngster Kyle Keen who died, aged 16 months, in 2006. His story and photograph are featured in the account.

Kyle, was admitted to Walsall Manor Hospital with a brain bleed. He had been shaken by his stepfather Tyrone Matthews, who was given a six-and-a-half prison sentence for manslaughter.

A review into his treatment is being carried out by Manor chiefs. His book costs £10.99 and will soon be at Waterstones in Walsall.

Temps' contracts extended due to computer glitches

TWENTY-FIVE temporary staff taken on at a cost of £100,000 to help with a new hospital computer system could have their contracts extended after problems continued.

Walsall Manor Hospital staff complained that the new system actually slowed them down. The new Lorenzo system aims to improve the way patient information is managed.

Places open at Jamaica conference

PLACES are on offer at a conference on issues affecting the Caribbean island of Jamaica which is being held in the Midlands.

The Jamaican Diaspora UK National Conference will feature information regarding land and property registration, customs, education, immigration and births, deaths and marriage registry details. The event is on June 13 to 15.

Advisors from six Jamaican government agencies will be available to present updates plus offer one-on-one advice to delegates.

The event will be held at the Centennial Centre in Birmingham on June 13 and 14 followed by a closing service on June 15 at the New Testament Church of God, George Road, Lozells.

Guests will include Minister of State with responsibility for Diaspora Affairs Arnaldo Brown.

Places which are booked cost £35 in or £40 on the door. More details are available via text to 07931 216707 or email to conference@jamaicandiasporauk.org.

But frustrated workers say they are struggling to fit all their work into their day, fearing it could lead to mistakes in booking appointments and clinics.

Workers were recruited on a three-month contract to help – but bosses say the issues are taking longer than expected to solve.

A report by Steve Darkes, director of informatics, says: "A number of issues have arisen as part of the implementation that the Trust needs to get on top of to provide a stable base for the staff to adapt to the new system and for the Trust to have timely and accurate information."

He says the staff have made a 'valuable' contribution and that progress is being made.

But he admits: "Undoubtedly there is still a high degree of frustration for end users in getting to grips with the system."

The Lorenzo system will eventually mean the removal of the need for staff to physically retrieve paper files from storage rooms.

Latest figures show the cost of temporary workers at the hospital has dropped to below £1.5 million a month, as bosses battle to save money. The bill rose to as high as £2m last year and was still up to £1.8m on agency, locum and bank workers at the start of 2014.

Tea shop takes villagers back in time

Farran Glaze, aged 17, from Cheslyn Hay, who is a waitress at the tea rooms which was once Brownshore First School

PEOPLE in a Staffordshire village can now take time out for afternoon tea at a new Edwardian-style cafe near a popular park.

The Old School Tea Rooms in Essington is recreating the ambience of a bygone age with its early 20th-century style parlour. The Victorian Parlour has opened at Brownshore Community Centre, in the former Brownshore First School.

"We wanted to create something in the village where people could pop in for a cup of tea or a cake," says chairman of Essington Parish Council, Councillor David Clift. "We also wanted somewhere that was affordable, and we have done very well since we opened." He said the project had also created four new jobs, which had all gone to people living in the area.

The council, which is running the project, spent several months looking for artefacts to deck out the premises with. Wal paper was chosen to reflect the 19th century theme, and an antique china cabinet and over mantle was sourced to add to the atmosphere.

Councillor Clift, who also sits on South Staffordshire District Council, added that several parish councils had visited the site with a view to opening similar schemes.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

ONE of the men at the centre of the Trojan Horse scandal, where certain schools in Birmingham are alleged to have been infiltrated by Muslim extremists, is an Australian called Sheikh Shady.

Of course, if true, the allegations are no laughing matter. But if you want to be taken seriously as an international preacher of hate, isn't it better to change your name to something that doesn't make you sound like an Eminem tribute act?

MORE words of wisdom from the ever lovable Katie Hopkins, who has decided to target Britain's old folk with her latest diatribe. Apparently, they get in her way, particularly when fumbling for their change in the supermarket, and says 'society has tried giving old people the hint that they are not wanted.'

"What's the point in living longer if all we're going to do is get in the way or sit in expensive nursing homes unable to recognise our own reflection in the mirror?", she asks, adding that she hopes to be 'bumped off' before she ever reaches old age.

Now how does the old saying go - prevention is better than cure?

DRINKING red wine improves your memory, according to a new study by a university with a very long name in Berlin. The study added that it can improve short-term recall and increase concentration.

Meanwhile, drinking lots of beer can...sorry, what was I saying? Oh yes, drinking red wine improves your memory.

Professor Sara Mills, a discourse researcher at Sheffield Hallam University, said pupils could instead refer to their teachers by their first names.

I don't know what a 'discourse researcher' is, but I would imagine it is something along the lines of a teacher who doesn't actually teach. Well not children, anyway.

But while the battle lines are now being drawn between the 'progressives' and the 'traditionalists', has nobody ever thought that the sensible course of action would be somewhere in the middle.

How about teachers tell the youngsters what their full names are, and then explain to them that they have to address them as 'Sir' or 'Miss' because the teachers are figures of authority, and the pupils are their subordinates?

Giving the children a lesson in the conventions they will have to adhere to in life outside the classroom is surely more useful than inviting them to take part in a guessing game about 'what Miss is really called'.

D-Day veterans in heroes' return

Veterans returned to the scene to mark 70 years since D-Day. DANIEL WAINWRIGHT reports

A SPITFIRE plane escorted a group of West Midlands war veterans back to Normandy for the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings.

Meanwhile others who went to France were greeted as heroes by schoolchildren who wanted to pose for pictures with them.

Ken Reynolds, aged 90, from Hednesford, Geoff Ensor, 90, of Merry Hill, Wolverhampton, 88-year-old Ron Davies from Walsall and Frank Corbett from Bloxwich were part of a group of 31 people flown into Normandy in 10 private jets organised by the millionaire advertising agency boss Trevor Beattie.

And as a special surprise the veterans were accompanied part of the way by a Spitfire.

Milestone

Funds were raised through Birmingham-born Mr Beattie's charity, the Jack and Ada Beattie Foundation.

Working with comedian Eddie Izzard, Mr Beattie helped to raise funds to make sure veterans could make the trip back for the milestone occasion.

Another group of six West Midlands war veterans also travelled over with a group from the ACE Academy in Tipton.

Joe Davies, a 91-year-old former police superintendent from Compton, served with the Royal Army Service Corps.

He spent last Thursday in Arromanches where children ran up to veterans and asked to kiss them on the cheek.

The Prince of Wales meets Normandy veterans of the Glider Pilot Regiment at Pegasus Bridge, Normandy

He said: "It's very emotional. It is a fantastic atmosphere and I've never seen anything like it.

"There are so many people who have wanted to take photographs with us.

"Children have been coming up to say 'thank you very much'. We're going to Caen where we will lay wreaths.

"It is our privilege and honour to be here."

Others with Mr Davies were Arthur Jones, aged 88 from Pendeford, 91-year-old Stanley Caldicott, from Warley, who served with the RAF, and Dennis Moodie, also 91 and from Lichfield, who was a Royal Artillery wireless operator with the 94th field regiment and Dennis Thompson, aged 88 and from Muxton in Telford.

The 70th anniversary of D-Day proved the last formal event for the Normandy Veterans Association.

On Thursday, the Princess Royal led tributes to the heroes who took part and the many who died in the landings in 1944.

Anne, commodore in chief of the Royal Navy in the Portsmouth area, attended a drumhead service on Southsea Common, Portsmouth, along with veterans and serving members of the armed forces. It included a demonstration of a beach assault by British Marines and their Dutch counterparts.

Following a rendition of the Last Post, a silence was held to remember those who died in the landings and the service concluded with the National Anthem.

Matthew Guymer, 90, a former Mayor of Stafford, who served as a major with the 11th Hussars Prince Albert's Own, said: "I think it's the last time I will be able to come down at my age. I am very proud and I am delighted to have the opportunity to meet the other veterans."

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

I don't suppose you get much time for reading," one MP said to me this week.

It turns out this particular Parliamentarian, speaking off the record, does at the moment.

I've been recommended the Robert Harris novel, An Officer And A Spy, which the anonymous MP has managed to race through thanks to an unusually long prorogation of Parliament (if we were unkind we might say 'holiday').

When Her Majesty's official State Opening of Parliament contained a speech of merely 10 minutes there were claims that the Coalition Government had 'run out of steam'. But with an election next year the Coalition also cannot risk running out of time for any crucial legislation to get through both Houses.

Labour MP Ian Austin has called for a referendum on Europe to be held before the next election.

His stance is at odds with his own party, which only considers a referendum necessary if there is a transfer of powers to Brussels. Like it or not, the rise of UKIP means the Tories and eventually Labour are going to have to grasp this nettle. David Cameron says he'll do it by the end of 2017 but only if he wins the next election.

Dudley North MP Ian Austin's plan, while not popular with either of the big parties, would mean whoever wins next year governs knowing whether or not they are going to have to withdraw Britain from the union. If the referendum is delayed, the next five years will mean the Government having to come up with a plan for each eventuality.

Well at least it would give them something to do.

Dudley South MP Chris Kelly has extended an olive branch to newly-elected Labour and UKIP councillors and offered to work with them. He's sent his contact details and even goes far enough to say what many Tories dare not: "UKIP are our political cousins."

UKIP loves to say how it takes votes off Labour as much as from the Tories, evidenced by its council seat gains in areas like Coseley.

The big picture shows it's the Tories who suffer most. Tony Blair won three terms because he appealed to the centre ground, as opposed to core Labour supporters. What Chris Kelly is doing now is talking about how he shares 'somewhere in the region of three-quarters of the views of the UKIP councillors elected'.

He will have to avoid appearing to dilute the things that attracted former Labour voters to him in the first place. But if the Tories want to neutralise UKIP the election will be fought not on the centre ground, but on common ground.

Rip-off? Chancel be a fine thing

IS chancel repair a scam? Homeowners are being charged a one off insurance payment, when purchasing their property for chancel repair. What is chancel repair?

It is an ancient law which makes homeowners responsible for repairs to their local churches, in particular 'all that lies behind the altar'. I do not know if that is from the congregation's view, or the view of the vicar.

Solicitors on completion of a house purchase will offer you a form to cover these repairs, an insurance premium which is payable to a firm in London, to cover all costs, should a local church ask you for monies for such repairs.

If chancel repair laws still exist why do churches have appeals to repair their churches? Why do they not claim on homeowner's insurance?

Is this another scam with insurance? Are solicitors and obscure London addresses making a mint out of new homeowners? If anyone can throw some light on this subject I would be very interested to find out if such an ancient law exists.

Sad loss of brilliant councillor

I WOULD like to say how sad I was to hear of the sad passing of Councillor Tim Oliver. He was a brilliant councillor for Leamore/Birchills and always replied back to my concerns.

I found this e-mail remaining on my computer system from Tim, from the New Year of 2014 where he writes: "Blwyddyn Newydd dda for those of us from North Welsh origin!!"

A man with a great sense of humour also who I have no doubts will be missed by many. MP David Winnick and other colleagues and friends are correct, Tim was a councillor who put what he did as a public servant above and beyond who he was - mark of the man.

Tim would debate an issue with the passion it deserved on e-mail or verbally and take that debate seriously, but once that debate was over he would leave it alone and get on with other aspects of his life.

He never took the debate personally, which was another mark of the man.

Thanks for support during the elections

FOLLOWING the local and European elections I would like to thank the people of Birchills-Leamore who have elected me to represent them for the second time on Walsall Council.

It is an honour to represent the ward and I am humbled by the trust placed in me by so many.

I would of course like to thank my hardworking team, Cllr Tina Jukes and my agent Chris Jones. I would also like to thank my departed colleague, the late Councillor Tim Oliver, for his advice and encouragement. He was a proud Welshman, but was even more proud to make Walsall his home and call its people friends.

Backing boys in Brazil

AS the media and retail trade build the hype for the World Cup fans will be reading up on match schedules to organise their viewing arrangements. Brazil is a country of amazing beauty, and harsh poverty. Many will dream of being there to take part in the 24 day spectacular, the biggest football event on the planet. Let's hope England's young squad produce performances to raise a cheer. Winning ways would boost everyone's 'feel good factor', give the brewing trade a lift and encourage youngsters to play the game.

Tell truth on op delays

I READ your front page headline (May 22) re Walsall Manor Hospital, with interest, as I may have an idea to save it some money.

A government ruling states referral to operation must be within 18 weeks. Yet my wife has been waiting for a knee operation for more than 30 weeks.

She has not been offered any alternative, and nobody has had the decency to give a positive date despite numerous contact with the Patients Advice and Liaison Service (Pals) and the Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), which blamed winter disruption. The Staffordshire influx the first time we have heard that excuse. Why can't somebody just tell us the truth.

The saving target at the Manor is £10m. A good start could be made by disbanding Pals and CCG.

Horrendous bridge work

IT'S amazing the news you read in your local newspaper. The renewal of the railway bridge in Broad Lane, Bloxwich, is going to take another six weeks.

As one of many homes affected, Network Rail should have been keeping residents up to date with progress. However, communication has been non-existent.

The disturbance has been horrendous. Apparently, Network Rail do not give compensation. I suppose everyone concerned will be lining up for the photo when the bridge is finished.

It's a wrap for miner's statue in fundraiser

The Miner's statue which volunteers have banded as part of the Big Bandage campaign

THE Brownhills Miner statue has had one of its legs banded to raise funds for Birmingham Childrens Hospital's big bandage appeal which aims to raise £4 million to transform its 30-year-old cancer ward.

The 30ft statue at the junction of High Street, Pelsall Road and Chester Road, was installed in 2006 and can be seen for miles.

Money raised from the appeal will support the ground-breaking work at the hospital and help to improve the facilities.

Last year organisers wrapped up Birmingham Bullring's famous bull in bandages.

Ambassador Amanda Bailes said the miner's statue was chosen because it is an iconic piece of art work.

She said: "Every year the hospital stages its big bandage event to collect money and people are encouraged to wear bandages to raise awareness of the work the hospital does and raise money to keep it going."

Uncertain future of iconic HQ building

UNCERTAINTY surrounds the future of the iconic Walsall Police Station building after councillors disagreed over what should happen to the building when officers move out.

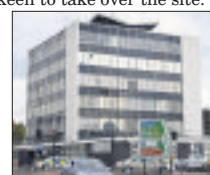

The station is set to close with officers moved into the council's civic centre to cut costs. Walsall's Conservative Council leader Mike Bird has previously revealed the council was keen to take over the site.

And he said bosses could even look to attract a hotel chain to take it over - if the police were willing to sell it to the council.

But the Labour group, which could form a minority administration to run the council later this month after winning seats at the local elections, has also spoken out about the future of the site. And deputy leader Councillor Sean Coughlan said the party would not commit to any development.

The police have not yet announced what could be done with the multi-storey building, on a major gateway into the centre. Councillor Bird said work is already being carried out at the civic centre to accommodate officers.

However Councillor Coughlan said: "What we don't want is for the council to take on a building that will end up as a blight on the landscape with nothing being done to it. So we would need to make sure that any plans were viable."

The building in Green Lane

Up to 200 officers would relocate to the Darwall Street civic centre. The current Bloxwich Police Station would become the borough's main HQ. Senior figures had raised concerns that a police presence would be lost in the heart of the borough.

Miss England hopeful up for final despite illness

SHE was supposed to be fundraising ahead of her appearance in the grand final of Miss England.

But instead Shelley-Marie Sumner was forced to spend five days in hospital after being struck down by shingles.

Miss Sumner, who was crowned Miss Black Country in February, had to cancel several important fundraisers due to her illness, including a 22-mile hike over the Malvern Hills.

It also meant her fundraising campaign to raise hundreds of pounds for charity was severely hampered.

But the 22-year-old freelance dance and drama instructor is now back on her feet and preparing for the prestigious Miss England final which takes place in Torquay this weekend.

She said: "It's been a hard few weeks for me. I was admitted into New Cross Hospital, Wolverhampton on May 22. I got shingles in my eye socket. The doctors said it was an airborne infection."

"Because I was in hospital I had to cancel a fun day I'd organised in Wilenhall and also a hike over the Malvern Hills."

"It's been a massive setback for me because fundraising plays such a massive part in the competition. It really has hampered my preparations."

"I have let the organisers of Miss England know what happened so they understand why I haven't raised as much money as the other girls."

Miss Sumner, who lives in Bentley, Walsall, will compete against 59 other women in the final of Miss England this weekend.

She has so far raised around £100 for charity as part of her involvement in the contest. She took part in Race for Life at Walsall Arboretum last month before she came down with shingles.

Missing woman search widens

Amanda Hawkins, who is missing after last being seen at the supported accommodation where she lives

POLICE have widened their search for a woman who went missing from her home in the Black Country.

Amanda Hawkins was last seen at the supported accommodation where she lives in Sutton Road, Moxley, at around 9am on Friday, May 30. Officers have now widened their search to include Brownhills, Lichfield and Stafford.

The 44-year-old is white, 5ft 2ins tall, of large build, with shoulder length straight auburn hair and blue eyes. She speaks with a local accent and is believed to be wearing a green jacket.

Detective Constable Claire Walker said: "Those who support Amanda at her assisted living centre are very worried about her as is her mother who lives in Streetly."

"Since she was reported missing at the end of May we've been working hard to find her. We've alerted local bus companies, we've conducted house-to-house enquiries and officers have searched the Moxley neighbourhood. Staffordshire Police have also been alerted to her disappearance so that they can search Stafford. We've also asked them to search Lichfield as she has been found there before when missing and her mum says she loves to visit the cathedral."

Anyone who has seen Miss Hawkins should call 101.

Morphine fears call by coroner over death

A CORONER is writing to government health bosses over the dangers of inadvertently administering morphine – after an inquest heard that a pensioner suffered an overdose of the pain control drug at a care home.

Bridget Cahill died from a drug overdose which had been built up over a long period of time.

By Marion Brennan

A post mortem found that the 77-year-old's body could not get rid of small amounts of the drug.

The widow, formerly of Waddington Avenue, Great Barr, had been a resident at Cedar Falls Care Home in Bescot Rd, Walsall, for around five weeks when she became ill last September.

Shortly before that, she had spent time in Rowley Regis Hospital after picking up an infection. On September 10, she was admitted to Walsall Manor Hospital after staff at Cedar Falls noticed she was unresponsive. She also had pinpoint pupils, an indication of too much morphine in her system.

She was given an antidote but suffered a bout of vomiting. She was treated for the symptoms but deteriorated and died the following day, the inquest heard. Pathologist Dr Iqbal Desi told the inquest at Walsall Manor Hospital that the concentration of morphine in her blood was not high. He said: "It was quite clear the overdose had been building up over a long period but she also had heart disease."

Mrs Tania Mason, care manager at Cedar Falls, said it appeared the medication had reacted to her body salts.

West Midlands coroner Robin Balmain concluded that death had been due to the effects of morphine correctly prescribed and administered but added: "It seems to me right that I should take the matter up with NICE. We need to look at this question of the dangers and why make some people have overdoses."

Firpal in the frame with art on display

Walsall College art student Firpal Jawanda, aged 19, with hit artwork on display at Wisemore Campus

AN exhibition has showcased the creative work of students studying art at Walsall College.

The Open Studio was a chance for students on the BTEC level three foundation diploma in art and design to show off their creations and talk to prospective students about the benefits of enrolling on the course.

Around 95 per cent of students have progressed to employment or higher education in the past three years following completion of the course.

Exhibitions were set up in various classrooms and corridors at the college's Wisemore Campus as students talked to visitors about their work.

Student Firpal Jawanda, aged 19, said: "The support and freedom that we have and the trust which is placed upon you to develop your own art is really great."

Golf scheme is on course to finish by end of year

THE first of around 50 new jobs being created with the opening of a new £3 million golf course has been advertised.

It comes as it emerged work on Essington Golf Course will be completed by the end of the year. The 80-acre nine-hole course is being created off Bognop Road in the village. Plans are still being drawn up to create a leisure centre and clubhouse as part of the new golf development.

by Catherine Dalton

Councillor David Clift, representative for Essington, said there would be 50 new jobs created with the opening of the course, a mixture of full and part time roles. And he said the first of these was already being sought as developers look for a greenkeeper.

Swimming

The rest will come in 2015 when the course is ready to open and the majority, said Councillor Clift, will go to residents living in Essington.

Councillor Clift said: "We have not known a proper figure for jobs but with plans which are on the drawing board for a leisure centre and swimming pool there, it looks like it will be around 50 jobs, full and part time. "It will be good to see this golf course all up and running. It is hoped the work will be completed by the end of this year and then people will be able to start playing there from spring."

The hunt is currently on for a qualified and experienced greenkeeper to work full time at the course.

An open day is also being held at the course from 1pm to 3pm on July 5 to give residents the chance to see the progress being made there.

Work at Essington Golf Club started in 2008 but its completion date was pushed back due to the downturn in the building trade.

Some fairways, water hazards, bunkers and footpaths have already been installed at the new course.

A new access road is also part of the development.

A DANCE and drama academy which has produced performers who have appeared on stages across the world is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

The Livingston Academy, which teaches dance, music and drama, was set up by dance teachers Debbie Morgan and Georgina Rowley in 1988.

Established in Darlaston, the academy moved to its current home on Holyhead Road in Wednesbury in 1996, after increasing business led to a need for new premises.

Around 350 people, mainly youngsters but also some adults, are currently on the books at the academy, but the number of people who have been through the doors since it was set up cannot be estimated.

MEMORY LANE

Report by Adam Grinsell

Former students have performed around the world – with one former pupil currently appearing in Cats in London's West End.

Nottingham

Others have gone on to teach dance and drama or set up their own academies.

Debbie said: "We teach ballet, tap, modern, jazz, all the theatre subjects – singing, speech, drama and all-round performance. The majority of people who come here are local to the area, but we have students from quite far away as well – we've had girls from as far as Nottingham come to us, so some really do travel."

The 25th anniversary was actually last year, when the students began rehearsing for a new show Magical Memories.

The show was put on at the Prince of Wales Theatre in Cannock last month, with a host of invited guests including former students.

Debbie added: "That's been the main celebratory thing really, we always do dance competitions, and we held a dance festival at Christmas, but the show in April rounded it off."

"Our aim when we started out was always to have everything that children need under one roof, everything they need to do the theatre arts, and we have achieved that."

If anyone would like to inquire about the Academy, call Debbie on 07976 880608, or see www.livingston-academy.co.uk

Male abuse victims are told not to keep quiet

VICTIMS of domestic abuse – especially men – have been urged not to suffer in silence.

The call from West Midlands Police follows a recent trial in which Caroline Loweth, aged 49, was jailed for life and ordered to serve at least 17 years behind bars last month after murdering her partner, 53-year-old John Fletcher. She had stabbed him on at least four earlier occasions before killing him on October 27.

by John Scott

The twice married woman plunged a knife through his heart during a row at her flat in Market Square, Wolverhampton.

Unmarried father Mr Fletcher, who had a home in nearby Merridale had covered up the earlier attacks by insisting that the wounds were self-inflicted.

Embarrassed

West Midlands Police spokeswoman Deb Edmonds said: "The death of John Fletcher highlights the many cases of domestic abuse which go under reported. Many male victims are too embarrassed to speak out or fear that they won't be believed, but figures from the British Crime Survey said that five per cent of men suffered domestic abuse in the year 2011/2012, just two per cent fewer than women." Martin Lindop, Sector Crown Prosecutor from West Midlands Crown Prosecution Service, said: "I would like to take this opportunity of encouraging anyone who is a victim of domestic violence, women and men, not to suffer in silence."

Detective Chief Inspector Kim Madill, from the force's Public Protection Unit, said: "If you are a victim of domestic abuse, please come forward and report it – police and other agencies are there to help and support you."

A BUDDING graphic designer has won a competition to design the posters and tickets for a charity ball being run by the emergency services.

Tom Moore, aged 16, who is studying graphic design at Walsall College, has seen his eye-catching image chosen to head up the campaign to raise funds for Birmingham Children's Hospital during a charity ball in August.

The evening of entertainment is being organised by two firefighters from West Midlands Fire Service with support from West Midlands Police and West Midlands Ambulance Service.

Around 160 tickets as well as dozens of posters have now been printed with Tom's design displayed and they are being distributed across the Birmingham and Black Country area.

He said: "I came up with the design in about a day but then the editing took a good couple of weeks. I wanted to create something which was abstract and interesting."

ALAN Warwick Butchers has long been established on high streets throughout the Midlands for 30 years.

The company has seen many changes to shopping trends throughout the years, and has come to realise that shoppers have become more savvy, especially in the light of recent meat scandals.

Their staff strive to offer the whole shopping experience – good service, quality products, competitive prices and smart, presentable shops. They hope as well to bring a certain amount of friendly expertise which might not be found at supermarkets.

A spokesman for the well-established family firm said: "At Alan Warwick we started a refurbishment plan, five years ago.

£400,000 project for new ticket machines

EIGHT ticket machines are being installed at railway stations as part of a £400,000 project.

The machines have recently been installed by London Midland and Centro at Four Oaks, Redditch, Bournville, Northfield, Selly Oak, Bloxwich and Rugeley Town stations.

London Midland and Centro are spending more than £400,000 on ticket machines this year with five more due to go in at Rowley Regis, Bloxwich North, Stourbridge Junction, Landywood and Alvechurch.

That will see ticket buying facilities at every station on the Birmingham – Walsall – Rugeley line and Cross City line. It comes as a ticket machine near the University of Birmingham's campus in Edgbaston issued more than 3,000 tickets since March.

Centro's lead member for rail and Metro, Councillor Roger Horton, said: "This is the only machine in the West Midlands that is not located at a rail station. Installing it on the campus is proving a smart move."

London Midland's customer service manager James Elliot said: "We're committed to improving the overall journey experience for our passengers and making it easier to buy a ticket is part of that process."

"Through effective partnership working with Centro and the University of Birmingham we have delivered an innovative solution which makes travelling by train even easier."

Campaigners' joy after reprieve on pub scheme

By Deborah Hardiman

CAMPAIGNERS fighting to save a closure-threatened Walsall pub from becoming shops have won a reprieve after the developer withdrew from an appeal hearing.

Residents had been fighting plans by owner Red Star Estates Limited to turn The Magic Lantern in Beechdale, into a convenience store and four shop units.

The company had planning permission to redevelop the site, despite hundreds of objections and an action group's bid to keep it for the community.

A successful application was made to Walsall Council to get the Cavendish Road pub recognised as an asset of community value, giving residents the chance to club together and buy the building should it come up for sale.

The developer then lodged an appeal against the move at Walsall County Court that was due to be heard on May 29.

Birchills and Leamore representative Councillor Tina Jukes said: "There is no appeal, they pulled out the morning it was due to be heard at court so the Lantern at present stays as a pub which is fabulous for the community of Beechdale. We are over the moon."

"It's what the community and the residents want. The pub is still open for business and people are holding events there."

"The owner was taking Walsall Council to a tribunal over the decision to create a community asset management."

"Their objection was that because the building has been given this new status they can't now create the retail space."

She said the failure of the hearing to go ahead means that more entertainment nights can be planned for the venue situated at the junction with Bloxwich Lane and Bentley Lane.

The next event will be a ska disco. A Facebook page has also been set up to promote the campaign.

Red Star Estates Limited had hoped to start the building work earlier this year and said it had tenants already lined up for the scheme that would create 16 jobs if it went ahead.

Councillor Tina Jukes, left, with some of the community group set up to help save the pub in Beechdale

Match of the Day Live (BBC1, 10.20pm)
England v Italy (Kick-off 11.00pm). Coverage as Roy Hodgson's men get their World Cup Group D campaign under way at the Arena Amazonia in Manaus, Brazil. The sides also met in the quarter-finals of Euro 2012, when the Italians were largely dominant throughout, but the match ended 0-0, with the Azzurri progressing on penalties. The teams faced each other again two months later in a friendly, when England prevailed 2-1, but both sides were far from full-strength. Since that contest, England have qualified for this tournament in a competent, if unspectacular manner, winning six and drawing four of their 10 fixtures to finish one point clear of Ukraine at the top of the table. Meanwhile, Italy also earned six victories and four draws from their qualifiers.

Uruguay have been among the top 10 nations in the FIFA rankings for some time now, and while they begin as favourites to succeed here, they will need to perform better than they did in the qualifying campaign. Having finished fifth in the CONMEBOL group just behind Ecuador, they secured their place in the tournament via a two-legged inter-confederation play-off against Jordan, and avoided what would have been an embarrassing upset. Costa Rica are one of four nations to have qualified from the CONCACAF region, joining the USA, Honduras and Mexico, and this will be their fourth appearance at a World Cup finals. In eight previous fixtures against Uruguay they have never recorded a victory, losing six times and drawing twice, with the most recent clash ending in a 1-1 draw in 2009.

With Switzerland and Ecuador the other sides involved, France will expect their star-studded squad to finish top and reach the last 16, where they may also be handed a favourable draw against a team from Group F. Pick of the Week

The Goodmans make a return to our screens

It's been 18 months since we last caught up with with TV's favourite Jewish family, the Goodmans – and that's an age in TV terms.

We thought that was it, they'd left our lives forever. But thankfully that's not the case, because here they are, back for a new run of the sitcom.

"I'm so excited to be making a new series of Friday Night Dinner with such a fantastic cast once again," says writer and producer Robert Popper. "I really could not be happier. Well I could, if say, I'd taught crows how to speak and they, in turn, taught me how to fly."

Nerys Evans, Deputy Head of Comedy, Channel 4, adds: "We're thrilled we're going to be spending more Friday Nights with the Goodmans, and not forgetting Jim and Wilson too. Robert's created such a brilliantly warm and funny world, and the cast are just sublime, we can't wait to join them for more Friday Night Dinners."

Although it's truly an ensemble piece, it's Tamsin Greig who effortlessly manages to grab the spotlight – but then again, she is arguably the leading female light in British sitcom at the moment thanks to this show and the BBC Two hit Episodes.

"I think it's lovely," she says of this project. "The editing is beautiful, it's as if it's written on the page, very very fast, tightly shot, very funny and a credit to the people who put it together."

Here she plays Jackie, the matriarch who's very much at the head of the family, a fact that Greig discovered was true to life when she spent an evening with some Jewish friends.

"I went to a mate's house for Friday night dinner and there was a lot of food and the women were really loud," she says, widening her eyes. "And so I just used that. I thought the women might be more retiring, but the women really do run the shindig and I thought that was brilliant."

"But Robert hasn't had to think up any of this. He should really say it was written by his dad!"

However, she does have one problem during filming – sharing the screen with her old Green Wing sparring partner Mark Heap.

A known 'corpser', Greig says it was "almost impossible" to film with Heap as Jim the neighbour. "I think there are some scenes where you can't cut to me at all because I'm just laughing out loud every time he moves," she recalls.

At the start of the new run, Jackie is thrilled – Adam seems to be having more luck with the ladies. In fact, at long last, he's bringing a lady (or 'female' as his dad would say) home to meet his parents and brother Jonny. However, as you may already have guessed, the evening doesn't go quite to plan.

That's because the Goodmans are currently taking care of eight-year-old Katie who has a crush on Adam. So when she spots some incriminating photos on his phone, she spies the perfect opportunity to blackmail him into doing everything wants.

And barking like a dog while wearing make-up doesn't go down well with Emma...

Simon Bird stars in Friday Night Dinner, Friday, Channel 4, 10pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Tigers About the House BBC2, 8pm
New series. Documentary following zookeeper Giles Clark as he hand-rears Sumatran tiger cubs Spot and Stripe, which were born at the Australia Zoo in Queensland and are one of the most critically endangered species on earth. To help give them the best start and ensure their survival, Giles takes them home to live with his boisterous family and gives them round-the-clock care for the first four months of their lives. The film gives an intimate look into the crucial early development of the cubs as they struggle through their first crucial weeks, while Giles embarks upon the toughest parenting job of his life and tries to save the species from the brink of extinction in the wild. Andrew Lincoln narrates.

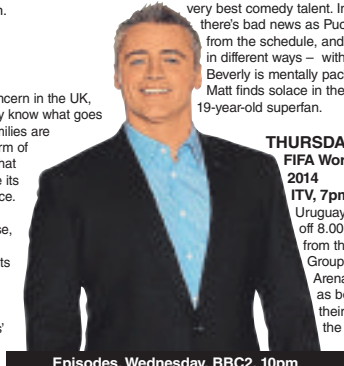

Benefits Britain: Life on the Dole Channel 5, 9pm
It's been a hot topic for a while, and there's almost been as much coverage on this subject recently as there has been on the World Cup. Well okay, maybe not quite that much. Figures suggest that there are more people living off benefits now than at any time since the foundation of the welfare state. Some put this down to factors such as immigration, lack of jobs, and, controversially, laziness. But can we really be so judgemental until we understand the circumstances of those who rely on the state? This series aims to give us an insight into the lives of claimants, including Jordan McDonald from Great Yarmouth, who had his benefit payments cut when the job centre discovered he had not attended a work programme.

TUESDAY
Horizon: Where Is Flight MH370? BBC2, 9pm
The inside story of the search for Malaysia Airlines Flight MH 370, which vanished on March 8 while en route from Kuala Lumpur to Beijing. The film reveals how the Boeing 777 disappeared in a radar blind spot and what investigators believe happened to the aircraft in its last minutes, and hears from the British satellite engineers who tracked the plane's final hours. It also examines new technologies including black-box streaming and enhanced air-traffic surveillance that mean an airliner should never be lost without trace again.

WEDNESDAY
My Violent Child Channel 5, 9pm
Domestic violence is still a big concern in the UK, and while it's true we'll never really know what goes on behind closed doors, some families are suffering an altogether different form of abuse; one that's so devastating that many refuse to even acknowledge its existence – child-on-parent violence. This one-off programme tells the shocking story of this kind of abuse, and reveals how helplines receive over 11,000 calls a year from adults being physically abused in their home. The documentary takes a look at the hidden world of such violence and follows three families' journeys as they struggle to get their head around their children's behavioural issues – and cannot help but question what they could be doing differently in their parenting.

Episodes BBC2, 10pm
Back when television phenomenon Friends ended after its 10-year run, its stars could have been forgiven for laying awake at night with worry about what they'd do next. For Matt LeBlanc, however, that worry would have been wasted energy. Okay, so when she spots some incriminating photos on his phone, she spies the perfect opportunity to blackmail him into doing everything wants. And this brilliant comedy alongside some of our own very best comedy talent. In tonight's episode there's bad news as Pucks! is finally pulled from the schedule, and everyone reacts in different ways – with Sean is in denial, Beverly is mentally packing her bags and Matt finds solace in the arms of a 19-year-old superfan.

Episodes, Wednesday, BBC2, 10pm

THURSDAY
FIFA World Cup Live 2014 ITV, 7pm
Uruguay v England (Kick-off 8.00pm). All the action from the eagerly awaited Group D fixture at the Arena de Sao Paulo, as both sides play their second match of the tournament. While this may not officially be the Group of Death, the draw in December did little to breathe life into England's campaign, as Roy Hodgson's men were handed this clash with the South Americans to follow their opener against Italy. While Uruguay struggled in qualifying and needed a play-off against Jordan to make it through, they will still be regarded as one of the favourites due to their outstanding strikeforce, which includes Edinson Cavani, Diego Forlan and Luis Suarez. The injury-hit latter of those three will no doubt attract the greatest attention ahead of this fixture, having proven a controversial character in his time at Liverpool, for whom he was in outstanding form last season. In fact, the striker was at the centre of one of the most memorable moments of the last World Cup, when his last-minute deliberate handball on the goal line against Ghana resulted in his dismissal, although the subsequent penalty miss by Samoa Gyan saw the match go to a shootout, which Uruguay won to become the only South American representative in the semi-finals.

FRIDAY
Seven Wonders of Brazil BBC2, 9pm
Brazilian Catholicism is a mixture of influences that has developed since the country was colonised by the Portuguese almost 500 years ago, combining song and dance, African and native beliefs and the faith of the southern Europeans who invaded. In this film, theologian Robert Beckford explores the incredible spiritual diversity of the South American country by examining seven things that embody the melting pot of Brazilian Christianity, from statue of Jesus Christ to the samba beat of the carnival.

Awesome warp speed car but at what a cost

By Sharon Walters

The race for power, pace and prestige has been well and truly joined by the German trimvirate of Audi, BMW and Mercedes, all of whom have produced fire-breathing beasts which wouldn't look out of place on a Formula 1 track.

A product of the finest technology the Audi RS7 is simply awesome, the 560ps four litre twin turbo V8 delivering warp speed and power as the firm seeks to attract the big spenders in search of thrills on four wheels.

It is a huge, stunning-looking car, sleek, curved and angled in all the right places and shod with 20 inch alloys – although the stylish 21 inch five-spoke bladed black wheels on this model are the matter of another £2,000.

But it does look good as do all RS models, with its low stance, its predatory-looking lights with LED surrounds and all the red RS badging and trim exuding a look of power – and it doesn't fail to deliver.

Harnessed to Audi's quattro four-wheel drive system and a seamless eight speed automatic gearbox, the car powers from 0-60mph in 3.9 seconds – and just for the record, if you can get it on a race track or the German autobahn, it has a top speed of nearly 190mph. The eight-speed automatic gearbox is barely registers the gear changes, but if you like you can have fun with paddles behind the steering wheels.

The acceleration is enough to have you and your passengers reaching for the neck brace, and there is a satisfying V8 roar from the twin exhausts under acceleration.

Sophisticated

It also has amazing grip thanks to the all-wheel drive system but even then all the sophisticated electronics are battling to keep it in straight line.

If it looks like a flying machine without wings from the outside the interior is pure space age, featuring just about about every gadget, well most, you could want from a car costing more than £80,000.

Well, that's not strictly true and in this case the car was loaded with extras worth an eye-watering £30,000, including a Bang & Olufsen sound system at more than six grand.

High tech features can include goodies such as cockpit-style head-up display which projects info onto the windscreen, multi-settings for engine management and suspension set up via the intelligent central brain controlled from the console between the two front seats. This also controls music, navigation and telephone connections.

Fixtures and fitting are pure luxury with a sporty look and soft touch finishes abound.

The four interior seats are also sporty but comfortable. Made from honeycombed quilted leather with grey stitching, they grip the occupants firmly but comfortably.

Flying machine it may be but it is also fairly practical, comfortably accommodating four adults and features a large, shallow but long boot which is accessed via the large hatchback tailgate.

The rear seats fold increasing the 535 litres stowage space to more than decent 1,390 litres.

Fuel consumption is probably not an issue when forking out this much cash, but average consumption according to the car's computer ended up at nearly 25mpg, not bad against a claimed 28.8mpg and I did not have to fill it up after every couple of lampposts. It seems odd to have stop/start technology on such a car, but perhaps it did shift up that economy figure.

The 560ps is not much good if the car won't stay on the road and as you would expect of a car of this pedigree, the handling is faultless, with the all-wheel drive traction and stability programmes making it cling to the road limpet like on fast corners.

The ride however, can be like a go-kart especially when the dynamic option is selected on those engine management settings. Even when switched to comfort mode the ride is borderline harsh. But if you buy a sporty car like this, that probably is not an issue.

Sports car performance with a bit on top, plus cutting edge technology and car park kudos, it's great, but what a price.

Volvo hybrid gets boost of R-Design

The super-efficient Volvo V60 Plug-in Hybrid – one of the best-selling hybrid-electrified vehicles in Europe in 2013 – is now also available in Volvo Cars' R-Design specification.

"We sold almost 8,000 plug-in hybrids in 2013. Adding the R-Design dynamic attributes to the V60 Plug-in Hybrid – the world's first diesel plug-in hybrid – will further broaden its appeal. The customer gets segment-topping performance combined with outstanding efficiency," says Alain Visser, senior vice-president marketing, sales and customer service at Volvo Car Group.

The Volvo V60 D6 AWD R-Design Lux Nav is available from £51,675 (excluding £5,000 Plug-In Car Grant) on the road and can be ordered now, with expected deliveries from August.

The V60 Plug-in Hybrid R-Design features a number of unique interior and exterior features which create a sporty presence. The exterior blends the Plug-in Hybrid identification with the R-Design front bumper and grille, rear diffuser and 18in Ixion wheels.

Inside, the car comes with a full R-Design interior, featuring sports seats as standard with a blend of black nubuck textile and perforated leather. Amongst the other unique R-Design features, it also includes sports pedals, sports floor mats and charcoal headlining. The car retains the special plug-in hybrid instrumentation and information.

Contact

Also fitted as standard on all PHEVs is Volvo's telematic system, Volvo On Call. This system allows users to use a free mobile app to access a number of functions and keeps the driver in constant contact with the vehicle, no matter where they are.

The front wheels of the V60 Plug-in Hybrid are powered by a five-cylinder 2.4-litre turbodiesel producing 215hp and 440Nm of torque. The car has a six-speed automatic transmission.

The rear axle is powered by an electric motor producing 70 horsepower and 200Nm of torque. It is supplied with power from an 11.2kWh lithium-ion battery pack installed under the floor of the load compartment.

The driver selects the required driving mode via three buttons that give the car three entirely different temperaments: Pure, Hybrid or Power.

In the default hybrid mode, the carbon dioxide emissions are down to just 48g/km. This corresponds to fuel consumption of 155.2 mpg (NEDC certification driving cycle for hybrids).

What is more, at the touch of a button the driver can choose to cover up to 31 miles on pure electric power - or utilise the combined capacity of the diesel engine and electric motor to create a veritable driving machine that offers 215+70 horsepower and 440+200Nm of torque.

Spec unveiled for Ypsilon

Details and pricing for the revised Chrysler Ypsilon range have been announced by Fiat UK.

The range features new entry and premium versions, additional equipment on the mid-range car, fresh colour choices, and new names that bring the UK series in line with the rest of Europe.

Powered by a choice of three economical, low emission engines – 1.2-litre 69 hp petrol, 1.3-litre MultiJet 95 hp diesel and 0.9-litre 85 hp petrol – the range now comes in three trim levels, Silver, Gold and Platinum.

With a starting price of just £9,895 for the 1.2 Silver, the new Ypsilon, which is available in the UK now, represents outstanding value for money.

Ypsilon Silver, which replaces the S version, is comparably equipped but includes internal and external styling changes, new seat design and detail finishes. The exterior is further enhanced by a refreshed colour range which includes three new colours: Marble Grey, Khaki Grey, and Sapphire Blue.

Linked to the paint colour is a choice of internal and external finishes to items such as front grille, door mirror covers, hub cap centres and dashboard panel – all of which are available in either gloss black or matt dark grey. Added to this, the final accent colour is also selectable between Coconut, Watermelon or Lime, dependent on the body-colour.

The new Ypsilon Gold version is a direct replacement for the outgoing SE, and is identical in both equipment (including 15in alloy wheels, air conditioning, leather-wrapped steering wheel and power door mirrors) and look – with the addition of Blue&Me as standard equipment. This allows the driver to connect an external music device and stay legal and safe with built-in Bluetooth technology for telephone calls on the move.

Top-of-the-range Platinum version takes Ypsilon back to its origins as a luxury small car. Packed with unprecedented standard equipment, it features include 16in alloy wheels, automatic climate control, rear power windows, cruise control, part leather seats and Magic Parking, which helps the driver park in tight spaces.

We are confident we are offering an attractive package, with excellent technology and equipment, at exceptional value-for-money prices, says Damien Dally, head of brand, Chrysler UK."

Keane is edged out on points decision

WALSALL'S Christopher Keane lost vital ground in the race for the British cruiserweight title with a razor-thin eliminator defeat away from home, writes Craig Birch.

The Midlands titleholder travelled to Swindon's Oasis Leisure Centre and into the backyard of Southern counterpart Lawrence Bennett on Saturday.

That very same night, Oviell McKenzie unified the British and Commonwealth belts in Newcastle with a second round stoppage of Jon-Lewis Dickinson.

Keane was unable to capitalise in Wiltshire thanks to the judges, two out of three going with Bennett for his split decision win after a scrappy 10-round.

Mike Alexander scored it 96-95 in favour of Keane, but Jeff Hinds and Howard Foster recorded a super-wide 99-92 and 98-94 for Bennett respectively.

Keane, with double the pro experience of his opponent, had spent most of the 10 rounds trying to blast his opponent out of there.

Bennett jabbed his way to safety as Keane loaded up with right hooks which seldom found the target, forcing the West Midlander to switch hit.

Win shirt delivered by legend

ASTON Villa are offering fans the fantastic opportunity to have the new 2014-15 away shirt hand delivered by a member of the 1982 European Cup winning squad.

The shirt, which features a white body with a pin-stripe design to pay homage to the famous jersey worn by legends such as Gordon Cowans, Peter Withe and Ken McNaught in Rotterdam, is available to pre-order from until Tuesday, July 8.

Fans who pre-order the shirt will be entered into a draw to have their shirt delivered by one of the legends. One hundred lucky winners will then be selected and will receive their new away shirt on Sunday, July 13.

Please note that due to operational logistics, we are only able to offer this promotion to supporters living within a 20-mile radius of Villa Park. Terms and conditions apply.

Pair heading out to Rio

TWO Midlands players are chasing glory at the FIFA Interactive World Cup (FIWC) Grand Final in Rio de Janeiro.

Ty Walton, from Redditch, and David Bytheway, from Wolverhampton, have qualified to represent England at the FIFA Interactive World Cup (FIWC) Grand Final.

This year is the first year the Grand Final is to be held in the same country and same time as the World Cup. David, aged 20, is ranked 23rd in the world and 21 year old Ty, ranked 19th. For information, go to: www.fifa.com/fiwc or www.twitter.com/fiwc.

Jordanne smashes way to second title

Jordanne Whiley has won her second title

BRITAIN'S wheelchair tennis star Jordanne Whiley has won the second Grand Slam title of her career at Roland Garros.

Whiley, from Halesowen who is now ranked No.2 in the world, was partnering Japan's Yui Kamiji to win the women's doubles wheelchair tennis title.

The battling pair ended up beating Dutch top seeds Jiske Griffioen and Aniek van Koot 7-6(3), 3-6, (10-8) in a thrilling final which saw Whiley having to stop to make adjustments to the straps which aid her stability.

It's the second successive Grand Slam title for the Whiley and Kamiji, who won the women's doubles at the Australian Open in January after ending 2013 by winning the Doubles Masters in California, USA.

The second seeds took a 5-3 lead in Paris and came within two points of taking the first set in both the tenth and twelfth games, but Griffioen and van Koot, who won all four Grand Slam titles in 2013, dug deep and forced the eventual winners into a tie-break.

However, Whiley and Kamiji didn't look back after taking a 4-2 lead in the tie-break and converted the first of three set points.

Whiley and Kamiji went on to race to a 3-0 second set lead, but defending champions Griffioen and van Koot forced the deciding match tie-break.

The British-Japanese duo took a 4-1 lead in the decider, before Griffioen and van Koot drew level at 6-6 and 8-8.

It was then that Whiley was having to recover from having one of the straps that helps her stability in her tennis wheelchair break at 8-8. However, she and Kamiji ultimately held firm to clinch their first match point and seal a fine victory.

"I can't believe it, I'm so pleased to win our second Grand Slam title together," said Whiley.

"It was such a tense final and the break at 8-8 in the match tie-break after my strap broke allowed me to calm my nerves, so it must have been fate," added Whiley.

"After being a member of the GB team that finished with a silver medal behind the Netherlands last weekend at the World Team Cup, this is a fabulous way to end two very big weeks.

"It's another major success helped by the amazing support I get from the Tennis Foundation and UK Sport through National Lottery funding."

Saddlers looking to take on 60 workers

DOZENS of jobs are being created at Walsall Football Club as it aims to host more conferences and events.

A new club lounge is opening this month, and the Saddlers today said they are taking on up to 60 workers to run the bars, kitchens and kiosks.

The Banks's Stadium already hosts weddings, dinners, cabaret shows and private functions – and chiefs say the recruitment drive will make it one of the leading venues in the Midlands.

It comes as the 1888 Club lounge prepares to open, creating another 10 jobs.

The suite will feature a pitch view, a bar and five television screens.

Bosses say the new staff are being taken on to deal with an influx of bookings and a predicted rise in demand in the run-up to Christmas. They will be a mix of full and part time positions.

Conference and events manager Vicki Chambers said: "Walsall FC has a long-standing reputation for the high standard of our off-the-field operation, which is the envy of many clubs.

"It is important that we don't stand still and rest on our laurels, and to that end we are constantly looking at ways in which we can improve and enhance what we already do.

"These are positive times for the club and with up to 60 new jobs being created, it is also positive for the town as a whole."

"This strengthens our position as one of the leading employers in the borough – we're evolving all of the time and the summer development of the 1888 Club is another significant boost for us."

The 1888 Club will cater for up to 100 members and costs £1,000 per season.

Football

Commercial manager Nina Best said: "The club is something that we have been planning for, for a long time and now the dream is starting to become a reality.

"We are delighted with the progress that has been made and the work is on schedule.

"When finished, it's going to be an exclusive members' room where business and pleasure will go hand-in-hand in stylish surroundings that overlook the pitch. Members of the 1888 Club will be guaranteed a premium, padded seat for all home league, cup and pre-season fixtures within the main stand."

Miss Chambers added: "We are looking for vibrant, enthusiastic people to work within our Conference & Events team.

"The ideal candidates will be smart in appearance and able to talk easily with a wide range of different people, from party goers to industry bosses.

"Experience in silver service is preferred, but you will receive in-house training from the start from our experienced staff.

"If you are over the age of 17 and looking to work in the Hospitality industry, you will get no better grounding than here."

Drayton Manor sponsors Bears

DRAYTON Manor Theme Park is set for the international sports stage after it agreed a major sponsorship deal as the official theme park of Warwickshire County Cricket Club.

The three-year partnership includes renaming the Priory Stand at the 25,000-seat Edgbaston Stadium as the Drayton Manor Family Stand.

In addition, the park's logo will feature on the stadium scoreboard, website, and on scorecards for matches at Edgbaston, as well as on tickets. This summer Edgbaston hosts international fixtures against India and Sri Lanka.

Brum riders bring the points back home

BIRMINGHAM Monarchs, cycle speedway club carried on the impressive run this season as they took the points back to Perry Barr after a tough encounter with Coventry.

Heat one saw honours shared as Nathan Groves took the flag for Birmingham with Drewett and Pietak filling in behind. Heat two saw some great team riding as Andy James rolled back the years and took the win with skipper Chris Timms taking second for a 7-3 for the away side.

Heat four saw the home side get their first win of the afternoon and close the gap to two points between the sides as Konrad Pietak took the win though a tough pass by McLaughlin on Hodgkinson could of seen the Coventry veteran excluded on another day. Heat five saw Birmingham claim a 6-4 as Mark Winwood to beat Polish rider Dominic Rycharski as Paul Timms got the better of Drewett with a fine pass. Heat six saw the Andy James and Chris Timms pairing take a second 7-3 maximum for Birmingham this time over Kyle Roberts who was right behind for the four laps and Tom Sensicall.

Heat nine just before the interval saw the third maximum 7-3 this time Steve Hodgkinson taking the win with Chris Timms second and putting Birmingham 51-39 ahead at the break.

Heat 10 saw Coventry claim their first 7-3 of the day as Sensicall and Rycharski lowered the colours of Paul Timms and Andy James. Then a 6-4 in the next heat saw the Warwickshire side get to six points behind as Myke Grimes took the flag ahead of Millward and Carl Winwood. Heat twelve saw Birmingham stop the rot with Chris Timms passing Konrad Pietak on the last corner of the last lap to take a 6-4 for the Monarchs. Heat fourteen saw the away sides final 7-3 as Paul Timms took the win with Scott Millward fitting i just behind. Coventry hit back with a 7-3 themselves but then shared heats meant that Birmingham took the win 94-86.

The final heat saw drama as Mark Winwood and Myke Grimes touched with Grimes taking a tumble with Scott Millward hitting the rider with nowhere to go. The re-run saw Millward and Sensicall clash in the first bend and both riders went down but both dusted themselves off and completed the final heat.

In the combination fixture Coventry took the win with Josh Marsh looking impressive with 17 points. Birmingham had Chris Callow and Ewan Hancox who both are looking sharp and getting better with every meeting. Coventry 86: Pietak 16, Drewett 7, Grimes 16, Lawrence 7, Roberts 12, Sensicall 9, McLaughlin 5, Rycharski 14

Monarchs 94: Groves 14, M.Winwood 13, C.Timms 17, James 13, Millward 14, C.Winwood 7, Hodgkinson 6, P.Timms 10

Albion in battle to retain Thorne

ALBION are braced for a summer-long struggle over George Thorne despite dismissing an opening £950,000 bid from Derby.

The Baggies rebuffed the offer on Monday night and told Rams chief executive Sam Rush not to bid again.

But the East Midlands club are already thought to be preparing a second bid and Thorne is keen on the move after impressing during a five-month loan spell at the iPro Stadium last season.

And that means Albion still face a fight to keep the 21-year-old despite issuing a hands-off warning on all of their players last night following bids for Thorne and Craig Dawson in recent days.

Terry Burton, speaking publicly for the first time as Baggies technical director, said: "George has progressed through the academy into the first-team squad and we have high hopes for him. He underlined his potential while on loan at Derby and we have no intentions of selling him. We have told Derby he is not for sale and that is the end of the matter as far as we're concerned."

"The same goes for all of our players. We are not looking to sell anyone. Our only aim is to strengthen our squad this summer."

Get back form call to Doyle

WOLVES striker Kevin Doyle has been urged to get back to the player he was by Ireland boss Martin O'Neill.

Doyle scored Ireland's goal with a bullet header from distance in Friday's 1-1 draw with Costa Rica, the first of two friendlies Ireland are playing in the United States, with Portugal in New Jersey tomorrow. It was his first for his country since he scored against Oman in September 2012 and his 13th in 58 internationals.

Doyle is hoping for another chance in the Premier League.

It was his second promotion of the season after winning a League One title winner's medal, scoring three goals in 23 appearances for Wolves.

Doyle has struggled to show the form that made him such a coveted asset at Wolves.

Mantom rumoured as possible captain

SAM Mantom has admitted to being flattered by talk of the Walsall captaincy but insists it will not prove a distraction.

The 22-year-old midfielder, whose performances last term saw him crowned the Saddlers player of the season, is one of several players in the frame to replace Andy Butler following the former skipper's switch to Sheffield United.

Mantom is not fazed by the possibility of being handed the armband but says his main focus remains on improving as a player.

"It's nice that my name is being thrown around and I'm delighted about that but all I want to do is just play well for Walsall," he said.

"I'm coming up to 100 league games and that's a good feat for someone my age."

"If I get given it (the armband) or not, I don't think it will affect me either way."

"I will have to have a chat with the gaffer and see what his thoughts are."

"Obviously we have got players here who have got great leadership qualities. It's nice to have your name thrown around but there's nothing concrete at the minute."

Mantom was a virtual ever-present for the Saddlers last term, making 48 appearances.

And he admits there is a duty for the likes of him and Paul Downing – another of the team's young stars who could be considered for the captaincy – to show leadership on the field with Butler departed.

He added: "Obviously you have got to try to be a leader if you are playing week in, week out and people look up to you and respect you."

"It (the captaincy) is a big thing for us but nothing has been said yet so we will have to take that when it comes."

Butler signed a two-year deal with Sheffield United last week and will officially join the Blades on July 1. Mantom is full of praise for the legacy left by the former skipper.

"He's an awesome guy and an awesome player," he said. "As soon as I found out he was leaving I texted him and wished him all the best for the future."

"He just explained he couldn't do the travelling any more. It was taking a bit of a toll on him."

Change is exciting – Downing

PAUL DOWNING sees another summer of major change at Walsall as an exciting opportunity – and not something for fans to fret over.

The ever-improving central defender added his voice to those of Dean Smith's players backing the manager to turn up trumps in the transfer market.

For the third summer running, Smith is facing an overhaul with key figures Andy Butler and Craig Westcarr removed from the roster and doubts still about one of his top signings, left-back Andy Taylor, staying.

But Downing accepts those left behind must step up and take more responsibility as Smith once again tries to work the oracle in the transfer market on one of the third tier's tightest budgets.

He said: "I think you always have to be excited about a new season. We have had a positive two years and it's about taking the next step now."

"But it is exciting not knowing who we are going to bring in."

"We have not really signed anyone and I will be watching over the next few

Midlands trio are cup seeds

WOLVES, Walsall and Birmingham City have all been seeded for the Capital One Cup first round draw.

The three West Midlands teams are all in the southern half of the draw, which will be made next Tuesday at 10am.

The seedings means they can't play each other at the first-round stage.

LEGEND WALKER COULD SAVE CLUB

WALSALL FC's all-time record appearance holder is stepping in to help save an amateur team on the brink of closure.

Pelsall Villa FC, which has been running for 116 years, will fold unless people come forward to help run the club and stump up cash.

Former Saddlers goalkeeper Jimmy Walker has offered to hold a sportsman's evening to raise money – and bosses have said his input could save the club.

He was contacted by the club on Twitter and said he would like to get involved.

It is hoped Mr Walker, who made 534 appearances for Walsall, will appear at an event at Pelsall Social Club in late July and details are being arranged in the coming days.

Player manager Andrew Bentley said: "He asked if there was anything he could do so it looks like he will do this evening for us."

Speaker

"Usually it can cost up to a couple of thousand pounds to get a speaker in and organise it, so this would save us money and bring a lot in, which would sort us out for a while."

Members of the public have also emailed club chiefs offering to help at the ground since the local press reported on their plight last week.

Mr Bentley added: "Some people have said they could come and help so it's starting to look better now. It's all hands on deck because we have so much to do and not enough people."

Plans for the future will

be drawn up at a public meeting tonight at 7.30pm at Pelsall Villa's Bush ground.

The stand was recently revamped using grants but the club has fallen into disarray as former players Mark Bentley and Shaun Mason struggle to take on all the roles themselves.

There has also been a dispute over use of the dressing rooms, which are leased from Pelsall Cricket Club.

Mr Bentley said they hope the two clubs will work together to find a solution.

He warned some 'tough decisions' will have to be made at the upcoming meeting at the Bush Ground in Walsall Road.

Records show that football was played in Pelsall as long ago as 1898.

The two world wars meant football took a back seat for a few years, but the club reformed in 1961, which heralded the start of Pelsall Villa as it is known today.

The club attracted one of its biggest attendances in 1991 when Aston Villa stars turned out for a match celebrating floodlights being installed at the ground.

Sun shines on Aldridge 10 kilometre runners

Staff and family members from Craig and Derricott, who were running for Compton Hospice

HUNDREDS of runners young and old pounded the streets in the sunshine for the annual Aldridge 10 kilometre road race.

Runners from across the Black Country, Staffordshire and Birmingham flocked to the streets of the town on Sunday to make the most of the good weather.

Whether testing their fitness, raising cash for charity or just enjoying the day, the event, organised by Aldridge Running Club for the 23rd time, saw more than 600 competitors across all age groups.

In the early morning children's races 87 kids took part, while there were 71 entrants for the shorter 4.3km race, and a huge 450 for the main 10km event, which was started by Mayor of Walsall Councillor Mohammad Nazir.

One of those running the 10k race was 79-year-old John Summerton, the oldest entrant.

From Handsworth Wood, Mr Summerton is a member of Birchfield Harriers running club, and despite only starting running at the age of 46 in 1981, he has completed 54 marathons, and has applied to do next year's London Marathon.

He said: "Running is a part of my life. I used to do more of these events, about eight or nine a year, but this is my last one this year."
